WHITTIER'S CENTENNIAL HYMN. [From the Philadelphia Times.] Our father's God! from out whose hand The centuries fall like grains of sand, We meet to-day, united, free,

And loyal to our land and Thee,

To thank Thee for the era dona,

And trust Thee for the opening one Here where of old, by Thy design, The father's spake that word of Thine Whose echo is the glad refrain Of rended belt and falling chain, To grace our festal time-from all The zones of earth our guests we call.

Be with us while the New World greets The Old World, thronging all its streets, Unvailing all the triumphs won By art or toil beneath the sun; And unto common good ordain This rivalship of hand and brain.

Thou who hast here in concord furled The war flags of a gathered world, Beneath our western skies fulfill The Orient's mission of good will, And, freighted with Love's golden fleece, Send back the Argonauts of peace.

For beauty made the bride of use, We thank Thee, while withal we crave The austere virtues strong to save, The honor proof to place or gold, The manhood never bought or sold!

O! make Thou us, through centuries long In peace secure, and justice strong; Around our gift of freedom draw The safeguards of Thy righteous law, And, cast in some diviner mold, Let the new cycle shame the old.
